PROFESSIONAL DEVELOPMENT FOR K-12 TEACHERS MAJOR GRANT APPLICATION

For Schools, Non-Profits, Civic and Community Organizations, and Ad-Hoc Groups
(Applicants do not need 501-C-3 non-profit status to be eligible for funding.)

Professional-Development Major Grants offer over $1,500 to support high-quality, content-rich professional development for secondary and elementary school teachers and related educators. Projects should emphasize humanities content, which includes literature, history, the study of modern and classical languages, philosophy and ethics, archaeology, jurisprudence, and the history and understanding of the arts. We fund professional development programs in a variety of formats, from residential summer institutes with open, statewide registration to job-embedded PD specific to a single school.

A draft is required for Major Grant applications, and applicants are strongly encouraged to call the Education Program Director before submitting draft proposals.

What the NHHC funds

- Programs in the humanities that serve the teachers of the state
- Programs that include but are not limited to the following fields of study:
 - archaeology, geography, geology
 - comparative religion and religious studies
 - cultural anthropology and ethnography
 - ethics and philosophy
 - history
 - history, criticism and theory of the arts
 - jurisprudence
 - history, ethics, philosophy of the sciences and of the social sciences
 - languages, both modern and classical
 - literature

Programs that interpret the arts and sciences through the humanities are eligible for grant consideration. For example, our mission would not support funding the performance of a Shakespeare play. But we would consider funding a panel discussion of the historical or literary elements in Shakespeare's plays, which might accompany or complement a performance. A living history presentation or a poetry reading must have an interpretive component with a clear humanities perspective as well as a strong audience interactive component to be eligible for funding. Similarly, we will not fund purely science-related activities, but we would consider, for example, a panel discussion on the ethical implications of genetic research.

What the NHHC does not fund

- Speakers or programs with partisan/advocacy objectives
- Projects focused on the performance of the arts; science; or social science
- Individual research
- Basic operating costs and staff salaries
- Direct instruction to students except as demonstration lessons
- Meals and rooms
- Paid advertising
- Incomplete proposals or proposals received after the deadlines will not be considered

A completed application requires:

1. The completed 2-page Cover Sheet (see pages 6-7).
2. Project Director Narrative: no more than 5 pages to include the following:
 - (a) project description: Outline your purpose and goals. Provide a clear, detailed description of what will happen, when it will happen, and who will be involved. Include dates, times, and an explanation of all personnel roles. Please provide a schedule that includes titles and annotations of topics you plan to explore.
 - (b) audience: Describe your intended audience. Estimate the numbers you expect to attend or to benefit from this project.
 - (c) publicity plan: Prepare a detailed promotional plan designed to publicize the event(s). Include any other organizations that will help you promote the project.
 - (d) evaluation: Describe your expected outcomes. Provide an evaluation plan. You must include a list of criteria that will be used to measure outcomes, and a clear description of evaluation tools or mechanisms. (Attach any evaluation form you will use.)
 - (e) sustainability: Describe any post-project follow-up activities planned, if appropriate.
 - (f) partners & other funders: A list of collaborating organizations and any resources they will provide.
3. Project Humanist Statement: The project humanist helps shape the intellectual content of the humanities project. In this short, interpretive essay, the humanist explores the project's relevant themes and topics, and provides specific examples of scholarship that offer insight into the larger questions of meaning that this project plans to engage. Explain why the project is valuable and important to a public audience. (One page maximum.)
4. Budget form: Complete the Budget page. Please list your sources of cash and in-kind match. See Budget Instructions below.
5. Resumes: You must attach resumes for anyone receiving funds from the NH Humanities Council (maximum of two pages per person).

Strong projects will:

- respond to a demonstrated need of classroom teachers or other core members of the education community;
- be designed in consultation with a participating scholar or master teacher with academic credentials and teaching experience in a humanities discipline;

- provide both rich humanities content (either a single focus or multidisciplinary) and materials adaptable for the classroom;
- demonstrate a response to the New Hampshire State Department of Education's Curriculum Frameworks:
<http://www.ed.state.nh.us/education/doe/organization/curriculum/CurriculumFrameworks/CurriculumFrameworks.htm>
- have a clear plan for recruitment of participants who are actively teaching in New Hampshire;
- be designed for sustained professional development and/or include a follow-up component to reinforce learning;
- include an evaluation component to aid future refinement and replication of the project.

Budget Instructions

On the Budget Page, please provide detailed explanations of each line item, e.g.: three scholars @ $175 per lecture = $525; or 200 flyers @ .20 per flyer = $40.

1. Personnel: The Council's standard fees for regional humanities scholars preparing new programs are as follows: $175 per lecture/presentation; $225 for half-day session; $350 for full-day session. If the grant request exceeds these standards, please provide justification. The NHHC is not generally supportive of projects top-heavy in administrative costs. We do not fund staff salaries and benefits. Honoraria are provided for personnel whose work on this project is clearly demonstrated to be above and beyond normal administrative duties.
2. Travel: Our current rate for mileage reimbursement is $0.40 per mile. The Council revisits mileage reimbursement rates on an annual basis, so the standard rate is subject to change. The Council also provides partial support for airfare costs.
3. Materials/Supplies: This may include books and other materials such as printed handouts. It may also include purchasing copies of CDs, and film or video rentals. We do not provide support for the rental of equipment.
4. Printing/Photocopying: This includes the duplication of materials listed above and promotional materials listed below.
5. Promotion/Publicity: The design and production of flyers, posters, brochures, and other materials related to publicity may be included here. Please indicate whether publicity will be produced in-house or by contract.
6. Other: This can include items not typically funded by the NHHC, including meals and refreshments, accommodations, registration fees, research, planning, and equipment rental. It may also include volunteer time, overhead and administrative costs, and other incidentals not covered by the categories listed above

Matching:

1. Matching contributions may come from the applicant group and sponsors, from gifts solicited from neighbors or local businesses, from corporate, charitable and other foundation sources, from local governments, etc. Such contributions indicate the belief of others in a project.

2. The total of cash requested from the NHHC must be matched (equaled or exceeded) by the total of in-kind plus cash contributions from others. It is not necessary that matching contributions exceed cash requested for any individual line-item, but the total match for the project must be at least 1:1. Please be sure to indicate the source of your in-kind match.
3. All projects must include a cash match. This cash match must represent at least 10% of the amount requested from the NHHC. The cash match is spent within the project on specific line items and documented to the NHHC through reporting. It should not be sent to the NHHC directly. Please be sure to indicate the source(s) of the cash match.
4. Matching funds may be used for any aspect of your project, and for items that the NHHC does not typically fund, such as rooms and meals, research, and paid advertising.
